ALUMNI TO GATHER IN BIG CITIES AS CAMPAIGN OPENS

New York Alumni To Hold Biggest Banquet Ever

AT HOTEL MAJESTIC

Nelson '01, National Chairman To Speak

The period of the intensive drive for Middlebury's Million Dollar endowment fund will open in earnest Saturday, April 28, with what will probably be the biggest banquet ever held by the Middlebury alumni, at the Hotel Majestic in New York City. Asked yesterday morning what he thought of the present prospects of raising the million, President Moody said, "All I can say is that we shall try our best."

Contributions and pledges from various sources, many of them unsolicited, are coming in with every mail. Several more sources of expected contributions remain yet to be heard from.

Alumni banquets and gatherings will be held in Providence, Worcester, New Haven, Rochester, Syracuse, Springfield, Albany, and Montpelier on Friday and Saturday of this week. President Moody will address the meeting at Providence, R. I., Friday evening. Prof. H. P. W. deVisme and Secretary Duane L. Robinson will represent the faculty at various of these meetings.

Many prominent alumni will be present at the New York banquet. Allen H. Nelson, national chairman of the campaign and President Paul D. Moody will be the two main speakers of the evening. Rev. James L. Barton, honorary national chairman, will be unable to be present as at first planned. The Glee Club will go directly from the broadcasting station to the banquet, where it will render a program under the leadership of Prof. Bonney.

Distinctive Kaleidoscope to Appear Junior Week

Dedicated to Professor Sanford. Most Individual Annual Ever Published

"The cost of The 1924 Kaleidoscope will exceed $3,300," said Edgar T. Austin '24, business manager of the Junior Class annual, this morning. "The present Kaleidoscope Board believed that it was possible to get away from the stereotyped form of Junior Class books which have appeared from year to year, and give as its contribution something that was distinctly a class production. While considerable effort and expense has been incurred as a result of our efforts in this direction, we feel that the approval of this course will be forthcoming when The 1924 Kaleidoscope is distributed Junior Week."

In discussing the mechanical make-up of the book, D. Haydn Parry, editor of The 1924 Kaleidoscope, pointed out that all the latest innovations in book construction have been employed, together with numerous make-up styles to be found only in books whose production costs run from $15,000 to $30,000. The Kaleidoscope, he said, was fortunate in being able to economize in other directions, in order that book, or a book that will attempt to these improvements might be made.

"We are not boasting of a perfect create any sort of sensation about the campus," said Mr. Parry, "but our chief aim has been to give to the subscribers of the book something new, and to point out to succeeding Kaleidoscope Boards a path they might well follow and which in time will lead to the publication of the ideal Kaleidoscope. The Kaleidoscope is the publication of the Junior Class and throughout the entire production, we have kept this one aim in view. The support accorded the board from the members of the Junior Class has been the greatest factor in making The 1924 Kaleidoscope reach the goal set last fall."

The book will be the largest ever published, and will exceed 315 pages. It will be illustrated throughout with pictures of various college happenings, while cartoons have been resorted to, to portray some of Middlebury's most notorious inhabitants.

Undergrads To Rally On Night Drive Begins

Will Listen In On Concert And Address From New York

A student rally will be held in the gymnasium Saturday night at 7:00 o'clock, while the alumni in many of the larger cities of the country are gathered at the opening of the intensive endowment campaign. A radio receiving outfit will be set up in the gym so that all may listen to President Moody's address and to the concert by the Glee Club, both of which will be broadcasted from New York.

It is the purpose of the undergraduate committee on the endowment drive to make the occasion an undergraduate demonstration of enthusiasm for the campaign, just as a football rally is for the purpose of rousing enthusiasm before a big game. There will be informal speeches by students, and, in all probability by members of the faculty. College songs and cheers will be indulged in, and other music will be provided. Light refreshments will be served to all.

GLEE SINGERS ON SOUTHERN TRIP

First Middlebury Club To Visit New York

Musicians To Give Program At Big Banquet Saturday

The Glee Club left yesterday morning on a tour through southern Vermont, terminating in a visit to New York City Saturday of this week, when the Club will sing at broadcasting station WEAF and at the alumni dinner at Hotel Majestic, in the interests of the endowment drive. Prof. Luther I. Bonney accompanied the Club as director.

Last evening the Club was well received in Springfield, Vt., under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Methodist church. Tonight the collegians will entertain the public of Ludlow, being sponsored there by the Grange. Tomorrow night they will appear at the Rutland High School Auditorium.

Friday the artists will entrain for New York where they will be entertained at the Hotel Commodore. They will return on the sleeper Saturday night.

The program presented on this trip is, in general, the same that the Club has used all the season. The male quartet, however, and Allan Hunter, tenor soloist, will vary the program with a few changes in their respective repertoires. With the return of C. F. Dyer to the quartet, "Who is Sylvia" will again appear on the program.

Constructive work by Professors Larsen and Bonney since the home concert, Mar. 23, has put the musicians in excellent trim for this trip, finishing as it does with the first appearance of a Middlebury Glee Club in New York.

TENTATIVE JUNIOR WEEK PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The following program for Junior Week was lately made public by Charles E. Vose, chairman of the Junior Week Committee. While it may be subject to some changes and perhaps additions, the general features will doubtlessly remain the same.

On Thursday, May 10, St. Lawrence will meet Middlebury in baseball at 3:00 p. m. At 7:00 p. m. the Interfraternity Sing will be held on the steps of the McCullough Gymnasium, followed at 8:00 p. m. by the Junior Play, also at the Gymnasium.

Friday's program consists of trials for the Interscholastic Track competition at 9:00 a. m., Baseball, Bowdoin vs. Middlebury at 2:00 p. m., the freshman-sophomore rope-pull at 5:00 p. m., and the Junior Prom at 8:30 p. m.

Saturday at 1:00 p. m., the interscholastic Track finals will be held, and at 8:15 p. m. a concert given by the Norwich and Middlebury Musical Clubs.

Miss Charlotte Raymond '26, was called to her home in Fair Haven Saturday, her mother having been seriously burned that morning as a result of an accident. Mrs. Raymond died Saturday afternoon. The freshman class, at a meeting Monday, voted to send flowers.

PANTHER CUBS OPEN BALL SEASON TODAY WITH LOWELL GAME

Dean Wiley To Start Diamond Artists On Way

HASTINGS ON SLAB

"Chief" Bender Expected In Time To See Game

The first game of the baseball season will be played this afternoon when the Black Panther meets the strong nine of Lowell Textile Institute on Porter Field. The season will be formally opened by the tossing of the first ball by Dean E. J. Wiley.

Middlebury's opponents have made quite a name for themselves in Eastern baseball circles by holding Holy Cross to a tied score of 5-5. Since Holy Cross hasn't lost a game and is acknowledged to be the best team in the East, the visitors are expected to give the Blue and White players stiff opposition.

The batting order and line-up of today's game, according to a statement issued by Coach David Morey this morning, will consist of: Whitney, 3rd base; Martin, center field; Hastings, pitcher; Ross, left field; Gallagher, 1st base; Timberman, right field; Klevenow, 2nd base; Papke, short stop; Kilbride, catcher. Novotny and Daley will undoubtedly be used later in the game.

"Chief" Charles A. Bender is expected to arrive in time to witness the game this afternoon.

CAMPUS ADOPTS NEW CONSTITUTION

Document Lays Down Broad Principles Of Action—Bylaws To Take Care Of Details

The new Campus Constitution, published on page 2, went into effect Friday, April 20, when the Student Council and Student Government Council, meeting in joint session, voted to accept the proposed body of principles and rules under which The Campus from henceforth will be managed. The Constitution was officially adopted by The Campus Board at a special meeting Monday.

The new instrument is very general in its tone, laying down the underlying principles which it is felt should govern the administration of The Campus under the present conditions. The last article provides for the making of amendments to suit future needs.

The sections regarding the control of The Campus are merely an elaboration of the principle that The Campus, being in a real sense the property of the undergraduates of the College, is subject to their final control. Its direct control and management, however, is delegated by them to The Campus Board.

The detailed rules of administration, especially those relating to the minimum requirements for election to The Board, and to the credit point system for reporters and business assistants, will be laid down in a set of Bylaws, now in process of making. These Bylaws will only affect the internal organization and government of The Board, and can be made or unmade by that body as conditions may require.

PRESENT NEW KALEID PLAN TO FRESHMEN

At a meeting of the freshman class Monday, Pres. Kalin presented the new plan for selecting the Kaleidoscope Board by a competitive system. Since this proposed change affects the two lower classes in particular, it will be presented to them soon for definite action.

The plan suggested provides for the cooperation of both the sophomore and senior classes in the publishing of the college annual, although the control of the publication would still be in the hands of the junior class.

TRACK SEASON TO OPEN AT WILLIAMS

Much New Material to Back Up Trusty Veterans

Though Early, Projects Good For Initial Meet

Middlebury will open her track season Saturday, April 28, in the dual meet with the fast Williams team at Williamstown, Mass. Although this meet comes a week earlier than the initial meets of previous years, and in spite of unfavorable weather for training, Coach Brown has developed some speedy men, many of them new material, and is safe in promising that they will give the Berkshire men a good run.

In the sprints, Carboy and Cook, both veterans, and Crane, a new man, will represent Middlebury. Cook, Kendall, and Tully will probably be entered in the quarter-mile. Cook gives promise of a most successful season, having run the 440-yard in 52.7 seconds, in bad weather. Kendall and Fish, both experienced men will run the half-mile. The latter, tho a freshman, gives promise of becoming a runner. A third man, probably Gray or Palmer, will be added to the half-milers. Capt. Shelvey, Fish, and Lathrop will run the mile event. Oliver is Middlebury's best bet in the two-mile, with Dodd and either Shelvey, Kendall, or Lathrop as running mates.

In the jumps, Cook has been the most consistent performer thus far. Doolittle and Potter will also enter the high jump. Whitten and Kirchbaum will compete in the pole vault. Whitney, Sikorski, Cass, and Wittenberg are entered in the weight events and will probably participate in the discus and javelin throws.

Peck has been negotiating the high hurdles in remarkable time and will be the Blue's only hope there. In the low hurdles, Peck, Hollquist, Carlton, and Lobo will compete, Hollquist being a last year's winner.

The team will leave by auto at noon Friday for Williamstown.

FIFTY ATTEND MEETING OF NEW YORK ALUMNI ASS'N

(Special to THE CAMPUS)

New York, N. Y., April 21.—Fifty loyal grads attended a meeting of the Middlebury Alumni held at the Aldine Club here last evening. The question of alumni organization was discussed. Professor Duane L. Robinson was the first speaker. Coach Morey spoke on "The Relation of Alumni to Athletics." "The Growth of the Alumni Association" was the topic chosen by President Moody. He spoke in a general way concerning the needs and plans for additional athletic fields and other improvements about the College. The present drive for endowment funds was also stressed. Mr. Percival Wilds '02, acted as toastmaster.

Important Undergrad Meeting

At an important meeting of the Undergraduate Association next Tuesday night, May 1, officers for the year ensuing will be nominated. The proposed new constitutions of the Undergraduate Association and of the Student Council will also be acted upon, as well as the new rules to govern freshman hazing.

Women's College Enrolls Over 98 Per Cent of Members—Men Not Far Behind

TOTAL ENROLLMENT OVER 87 PER CENT

Barrett Says That Success Of Drive On Campus Will Insure Its Final Success Thruout Country

Following a tremendously enthusiastic rally in the gymnasium last night, over 87 per cent of the entire undergraduate body pledged their full quota to the Million Dollar Endowment Fund. The last strains of the Alma Mater had hardly died away when seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen alike pressed forward to affix their names to the pledge cards. The few who did not sign were chiefly those who were out of town or who were absent for some other reason.

Both the freshman and junior women claim the honor of having pledged 100 per cent of their members. In all probability, as this goes to press, the whole Women's College can claim a 100 per cent enrollment, as there remained but one of the sophomore class and two of the senior class to be pledged last night.

Ninety-four out of 97 freshmen men pledged their quota of $105. Of 72 sophomore men, 61 signed up for their quota of $157. All but 14 of the junior men, signed to pay the junior requirement of $219, while the junior class has the honor of having one pledge of $1500. Of 42 senior men, 20 pledged the full quota of $261.

Following a clever dialogue by Misses Broomell, Walsh and Sheldon; and another by Messrs Anderson, Whitney and Stuart, President Moody was introduced by Chairman Shepardson of the student committee. "I have never felt such a wave of enthusiasm as I feel here tonight," said President Moody. "Now I know that there is a no more loyal and enthusiastic student body in the world than we have here. I know that when I go back to New York tonight and tell the Alumni and trustees of the response you students have made tonight, they too will be ty."

Myron K. Barrett, chairman of the thrilled by this demonstration of loyal-drive for Vermont, suggested many ideas for the raising of funds subscribed. "I feel safe in saying," he said, "that just as the campaign goes here on the campus, so it will go thruout the country." Miss Martha Bolton spoke as the representative of the Women's College; and Eddy S. Kalin, as that of the Men's College.

To Begin Work Soon On New Athletic Fields

To Have New Gridiron For Freshman Football—Also Three Baseball Diamonds

Word was received Saturday from President Moody in New York authorizing the starting of work on a new football gridiron and three baseball diamonds, according to a statement given out yesterday by Prof. P. N. Swett, chairman of the faculty committee on Athletics.

The new gridiron, which will be used for freshman games, is already marked off by stakes and lies on the plot of ground between Porter Field and the Deke House. Work on the conditioning of the field will be started as soon as arrangements can be made by the Comptroller.

The baseball diamonds will be located to the east and southeast of the grove near Porter Field. One of them will be for the 'varsity, another for practice, and the third for inter-mural games.

It is probable that work on the diamonds will be started immediately, since the field is needed to comply with the new regulations concerning freshman athletics for next year.

OUR FOREWORD

At the beginning of a new Campus year, we pause a moment to acknowledge with appreciation the work done by our predecessors in raising The Campus to its present high position as a college newspaper. It is not our opinion alone, but that of alumni and of other impartial observers as well, that The Campus has been made, through gradual stages of development, a live, up-to-date newspaper. We hope to maintain it as such.

Further than this we believe that The Campus should be truly reflective of Middlebury. We fully realize the difficulty of publishing a paper toward which all classes, groups, and individuals will react favorably. Yet, we believe that there is a spirit which binds together all Middlebury, which is characteristic of all Middlebury activities; and it is with this spirit that we wish The Campus might be pervaded.

The chief problem which the new administration faces is that of making the new Constitution a working instrument. The spirit of this document, if not the letter, calls for a more equal distribution of responsibility among the members of The Campus Board. It is permeated with the idea of equality; equality of opportunity, of privilege, and of responsibility to those whom we serve.

The natural growth of the College requires a corresponding growth in The Campus. We hope soon to be able to offer our readers six pages every week without increase in the subscription price. This will depend largely upon our financial condition, which at present is good. It will also depend upon our success in bringing about a more equitable and systematic distribution of the work.

The present endowment campaign is demonstrating to some extent a former lack of unity and organization among Middlebury alumni. A better organized alumni body will undoubtedly be one of the most profitable results of the campaign. The alumni should be closely connected with one another and with the College. As noted elsewhere in this issue, we hope to publish an Alumni column, to which the alumni may turn to find news of their former classmates. The new Campus Constitution, moreover, provides for Alumni and Alumnae representatives, who are to keep in touch with the affairs of The Campus and to act thereto in an advisory capacity for the interests of the associations they represent. A closer relationship between The Campus and the alumni should be of mutual benefit.

In general, the new Campus Board will pursue a conservative policy, working continually to build up a stronger internal organization, striving to maintain the present news standard, and trying at all times to reflect student life and thought faithfully and fairly. In return, we expect our readers to bear with our mistakes, to criticize us freely but openly, and to cooperate with us in making The Campus a bigger, better paper.

EDUCATION FOR LIFE'S NEEDS

The plan of extra-curriculum credits to be required for graduation, while not made known in detail as yet, has been approved of in principle, by both the faculty and the Prudential Committee of the Trustees. This is a radical departure in the college world. Too many students are just drifting through their four years of college, giving little or no thought whatsoever to the question of symmetrical development.

The benefits to be gained from such a plan at Middlebury are very obvious. Its immediate effect will be felt upon the student while still in college, as well as its lasting effects upon him when he graduates. The person who touches College life effectively at as many points as possible gets the most out of it. Thus the indifferent, as well as the timid student will be given an incentive to exert himself and before long will develop a sense of initiative, responsibility, and leadership.

The graduate will find his path easier to tread in the outside world because of this all round experience and will certainly carry with him finer and more stirring memories of his college life.

It is a truism to say that the primary function of an education is to develop the intellect; but too often it is forgotten that it should not stop there. It should continue until it covers every phase of life.

Cecil Rhodes advocated somewhat the same idea in his Rhodes Scholarship plan. He stressed a wider idealism and breadth of views for his students—that they "may not be merely bookworms." Hence we hail with hearty approval the proposed plan of extra-curriculum credits, because we believe it means that Middlebury will turn out more all round and more useful men and women.

Constitution of The Middlebury Campus

Part 1. Preamble

1. The Middlebury Campus is a publication whose purpose is to serve the interests of the undergraduates and alumni of Middlebury College.

2. The publication of The Middlebury Campus is delegated to The Campus Board, which is composed of undergraduates.

3. The Campus Board is directly responsible to the undergraduate governing bodies representing the Men's and Women's Colleges; and to the Alumni and Alumnae.

4. The undergraduate organizations, through their governing councils or boards, may exercise a general control over the administration of The Campus; the Alumni and Alumnae, through delegated representatives.

Part 2

Article 1. The Constitution

Section (a). The Constitution shall proceed from and be amended by The Campus Board.

Section (b) The Constitution, and all amendments thereto, to become effective, must be accepted by the representative undergraduate councils or boards of both the Men's and Women's Colleges.

Section (c) The representatives of the Alumni and of the Alumnae shall have the right to examine and render an opinion on all amendments to the Constitution before they are voted on by The Campus Board.

Section (d) Copies of the Constitution, and of all amendments as enacted, shall be filed by The Campus Board with the representative undergraduate councils or boards of the Men's and Women's Colleges, and with the representatives of the Alumni and of the Alumnae. All undergraduates shall have free access to the Constitution and its amendments.

Article 2. Bylaws

Section (a) The regulations governing the details of administration of The Campus, not otherwise set forth in this Constitution, shall be embodied in the Bylaws.

Section (b) These Bylaws shall be formulated by The Campus Board, in conformity with the Constitution.

Section (c) These Bylaws may be modified or otherwise changed at the full discretion of The Campus Board, in conformity with the Constitution.

Section (d) All questions of constitutionality of said Bylaws shall be referred to and decided by the representative undergraduate councils or boards of the Men's and Women's Colleges, in joint session.

Section (e) Copies of the Bylaws and all changes as made, shall be filed by The Campus Board with the undergraduate councils or boards of the Men's and Women's Colleges, and with the representatives of the Alumni and of the Alumnae. All undergraduates shall have free access to the Bylaws.

Article 3. Control

Section (a) The undergraduate organizations of the Men's and Women's Colleges, shall exercise control over The Campus, as hereinafter described, through their representative councils, or boards, acting separately or jointly, except as hereinafter restricted.

Section (b) These councils, or boards, may each appoint one (1) agent, who shall not be a member of The Campus Board, but who shall have the right to attend all of its meetings, to inspect its accounts, and to secure from its officers any information concerning the administration of The Campus which the councils or boards they represent may require. These agents shall have no vote or direction in the affairs of The Campus Board, nor shall they be qualified to advise, suggest, or otherwise to exercise official influence in the administration of The Campus.

Section (c) These councils, or boards, may suggest to The Campus Board changes in policy, or amendments to the Constitution. These suggested changes or amendments shall be submitted in writing, and may be accepted or rejected by The Campus Board voting in regular session.

Section (d) These councils, or boards, may, voting as one body in joint session, demand the resignation of the Editor-in-Chief, or the Business Manager, or both; but such demand must be made in writing and must incorporate the reasons therefor.

Section (e) The representatives of the Alumni and of the Alumnae may advise The Campus Board concerning its policies, may suggest amendments to the Constitution, shall have the right to secure such information as they may desire concerning the transactions of its officers, may inspect all its records and accounts, and may publish in the columns of The Campus such reports as they may see fit, consistent with the administration of the College. They shall have the right to attend all meetings of the Board, but without vote.

Part 3. The Campus Board

Article 1. Organization

Section (a) The Campus Board shall be organized in two departments: the Editorial, and the Business departments. The Editorial department shall consist of the Editor-in-Chief, Associate Editor, two News Editors, and four (4) Assistant Editors. The Business Department shall consist of the Business Manager, Associate Business Manager, an Advertising Manager, a Circulation Manager, and four (4) Assistant Business Managers.

Section (b) The Editor-in-Chief, one News Editor, the Business Manager, and the Advertising Manager shall be elected from qualified members of The Board from the Men's College. Candidates must have not less than forty-two (42) academic credits.

Phenomenon Proved To Be Result Of Refracted Rays From Light Outside

The "ghost theory" is dissolved! The problem of the phantom photograph of Mead Chapel, containing the outlines of a man's figure, has been proved to be one of cold, cold physics. "Without doubt," says President Moody, "the correct solution of this apparent mystery is that submitted by W. E. Long '25, and the prize of $10 offered thru The Campus last week will go to him."

Another excellent and possible theory was advanced by Miss Ethel Beaumont '26, but the facts of the case point to Long's solution as the correct one. Both Long's and Miss Beaumont's theories are printed below.

Light Refraction Theory

Nothing could have been more opportune than the recent phenomenon of Middlebury's "Face on the Photo." It was only proper that with the arrival of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle for the express purpose of establishing his own belief that "spirits" might be photographed, that the first problem from "rock-ribbed" Vermont should be Midd's "Spirit."

Doyle will confine his explanation of such an occurrance to the spiritual. I offer the following conclusions which are based entirely upon the material.

The presence of such a figure was due to a reflection. The source of the reflected rays was in the room beneath the Old Chapel. Light coming to a bust of a man was reflected thru the window pane. In passing thru the glass, the rays suffered refraction and were focused at a point in the range of the camera lens. This image was bright enough to act on the plate, and when the development had been made it was only natural that a faint outline of the focused image should have been visible. What appears on the plate is a photo of an image of a male figure.

W. Edwin Long '25.

2——6——1

Washed Plate Theory

Such explanations as the face being that of one of the inmates of the room, as of a man passing by, or of marks in or upon the window pane of the room have no sound background. Being rational beings we do not believe in spirits, least of all in their photographs.

The camera must answer for the phenomenon. The lens and such parts probably did not cause it, for they have tested and proved their accuracy before. Let us then question the plate. Here a logical and very simple explanation arises. The general public may not know, but amateurs have tried, and photographers succeeded, especially during the war, in washing used plates. Manufacturers also availed themselves of this device. In washing, exceeding care must be taken to concentrate on every part. But a portion may escape. In a group picture for instance, it would be easy to wash over a face without entirely obliterating it. Our photographers may have gotten hold of a washed plate on which this face was still featured. I offer this explanation for your consideration.

Ethel L. Beaumont '26.

LUMBER MAN GIVES TALK

Mr. K. D. Scates Says College Men Needed in Lumber Business

"There is a great need for trained minds in the lumber business," said Mr. K. D. Scates of the Woodstock Lumber Company in his lecture in the Chemistry lecture room Tuesday night of last week. This he showed from the fact that only three college men besides himself are engaged in the company which he represents.

The immense importance of lumbering Mr. Scates showed by enumerating a few of the products and by-products manufactured.

H spoke of the importance of the pulp and paper industry, as well as that of the lumber business proper. Germany, he said, was able to hold out as long as she did because of her vast forests from which she produced guncotton.

Mr. Scates said the best means of learning the lumber business was to start at its source—that is, to work in the woods. This, he said, was hard physical and mental work. But the man who begins thus will experience "the healthy reaction coming from the satisfaction of having accomplished something himself." No scientific knowledge is required, but the trained mind of the college man is able to make better judgements. He mentioned, incidentally, the possibility of the Battell forests as a training-ground for men who wish to enter the lumber business.

In regard to salary, Mr. Scates said, "The man who is willing to fight it through can achieve almost anything in the way of salary and high position."

Former Rutland Pastor Speaks At Vespers

Spiritual Power Theme of Inspiring Sermon Sunday By Dr. A. H. Bradford

"Paul was a man of great spiritual power," said Dr. Arthur H. Bradford of Providence, R. I., delivering the vespers sermon Sunday afternoon. "The most important thing about him was his spiritual power; the most important thing about anyone is his spiritual power. Spiritual power! What is it?"

"Spiritual power is that which gives to man the power of controlling the forces within his own nature. The man without spiritual power is like a gigantic engine with no hand to control it. Destruction is inevitable.

"Spiritual power gives one the might to conquer circumstances. Man without this power is like an autumn leaf blown here and there, and the man that has it is like a bird flying straight into the forces of a gale.

"It also enables him to radiate righteousness," said Dr. Bradford. "The man without this power is like the red-hot coal. It is red when among the other red coals, but when it is thrown into the ashes, it soon becomes cold, gray, and dead. The man with spiritual power is like a piece of radium. Place it where you will and the same force is always there. The first man takes his character from his surroundings, but the second man keeps true to himself in a crowd which challenges his beliefs.

"If we live with heroes of spirit, we will become heroic ourselves. The spiritual man has power of self control," concluded Dr. Bradford, "power to conquer circumstances, to radiate righteousness, and to make out of life a triumph that will endure forever."

Simmons College Professor Joins Bread Loaf Faculty

New Courses To Deal With Normal School Problems And Public Speaking

Although the work of The School of English at Bread Loaf is planned for various types of students, all courses are of grade suitable for graduate credit, and emphasis in all courses is given to the problems of the teacher of English. All the courses are professional courses, whether in creative writing, the study of literature, oral work and dramatic representation, or the more distinctly professional courses dealing with the technique of teaching.

This summer two courses will be given dealing specifically with normal problems. Miss Cora A. Newton, of The State Normal School, Bridgewater, Mass., will give a course in Modern Problems in Teaching English; and Professor Clinton H. Collester, of Simmons College, one on Oral English in The Secondary School.

Professor Collester received the degree of A. B. from Amherst College in 1902 and of A. M. from Harvard University in 1904. He is now Assistant Professor of Public Speaking and instructor in English at Simmons College, Boston. At one time he was instructor in English at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has served occasionally as Sunday Docent at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. During the war he was connected with the Board of Food Administration for Massachusetts and was instructor in English for sections of the Student Army Training Corps detailed at Wentworth Institute, Boston. He has had experience also in the Personnel Department of the Dennison Manufacturing Company at Framingham, Mass.

Professor Collester has been prominent in the New England Public Speaking and Oral English Conference, of which he has been president for the past three years. He is the Administration Editor of the Simmons College Review and author of "Notes on the New England Short O" and "Narcissus Plays Distinguished."

Professor Collester is an enthusiastic member of The Appalachian Mountain Club and was the leader of the Christmas Holidays Excursions at Rochester in 1921 and at Manchester in 1922. He has offered to be of assistance in the hiking activities at Bread Loaf and will take charge of some of the afternoon and Saturday excursions.

His course in Oral English in the Secondary School includes a study of the methods and technqiue demanded by the various problems of the enlarging oral field. Speech drill, vocal interpretation, debating, club organization, project and forum discussion, and other related subjects will be studied in the light of their purpose, nature, and general relation to education and adolescent development.

Professor Collester will give also his course in Public Oral Exposition, which has proved so valuable at Simmons. This course deals concretely with the problems involved in explaining ideas orally so that they will be comprehensible, interesting, and impressive to differently constituted audiences. It aims to impart teaching method and at the same time to develop personal proficiency, and will involve the presentation of digests, oral reports, demonstrations of objects and processes, the formulation of observation, fact, abstract thought and opinion, the employment of visual aids, etc.

The course in Modern Problems in Teaching English to be given by Miss Newton will deal with the problems of

Alaskan Missionary Gives Interesting Talk

Dr. J. W. Chapman '79, Tells of Life and Habits of People in Far North

Geographical features of Alaska, ways and means of living there, customs of the people, and the changes brought about in the last thirty-five years, were some of the interesting points which Dr. John W. Chapman brought out in his illustrated lecture on Alaska, Wednesday evening, in the Chemistry lecture room. Dr. Chapman is a member of the class of '79 and has spent the last thirty-six years among the natives of the interior of Alaska.

Dr. Chapman took his audience on an imaginary journey through Alaska, part of the way being up the beautiful Yukon. The slides shown, pictured a country whose grandeur is impossible to describe. Dr. Chapman told briefly of his work that is centered around Anvik river, a branch of the Yukon. When Dr. Chapman first went there, the people lived in half underground huts with no windows, and with only a small hole in the top to let the smoke from the open fire escape. Fish was practically the only article of diet and the people were dependent upon a good fishing season for existence. They had no idea of cleanliness at all. To-day most of the natives have log cabins with windows and real stoves. Dr. Chapman said that it was indeed very profitable and worth while to spend one's life among so grateful and eager a people.

Home Economics Expert Lectures To Home Economics Club on Opportunities in That Field

On Thursday evening Miss Cora M. Winchell, Professor of Home Economics at Columbia University, addressed the Home Economics Club at the Music Hall. She took for her subject "Opportunities in the Field of Home Economics and the Value of Teaching It." She developed this topic under two heads: the educational phase under which were grouped teaching, supervision, and social service; and the vocational phase, which includes dietetics, catering, tea room management, etc.

Miss Winchell's lecture proved very interesting, and her coming here is regarded as the primary step toward the broader development of the Home Economics Club.

ALUMNI NOTES

John Wesley Lovett, ex-'66, died Sunday, April 22. Mr. Lovett had been blind for several years and had been living with his nephew, Almon Lovett on High street.

Adjutant-General and Mrs. Herbert T. Johnson of Montpelier, Vt., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Lieutenant Francis Parker Tompkins, class of June, 1918, U. S. M. A., now detailed as instructor at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt.

Lieut. Tompkins is the son of Col. Frank Tompkins, U. S. A., retired; and grandson of the late Gen. Charles H. Tompkins, U. S. A., and the late Gen. Thomas F. Barr, U. S. A.

Miss Carmen R. Walker '11, of Ludlow, Vt., registrar of probate in Windsor County, has returned from several weeks' visit to St. Petersburg, Fla., and has assumed her duties as chairman for women in the Vermont campaign for "Middlebury's Million."

FORMER PROFESSOR RETIRES

Principal McFarland Resigns Headship of Vt. Academy

Raymond McFarland, former professor of pedagogy at Middlebury, has resigned his position as principal of Vermont Academy at Saxtons River, Vt., and will probably be relieved of his office at the end of the academic year. He has not definitely decided what he will do in the future, doubtless he will give much time to writing and lecturing.

Prof. McFarland is a graduate of Amherst in the class of 1897. After considerable teaching experience, he came to Middlebury in 1908 as a member of the Pedagogy Department. For five years he was director of the Summer Session. In 1919, he left to take up the principalship at Saxtons River.

Tell your physics prof. that this cap defies gravity

SHAVING cream caps have an uncanny habit of chumming with gravity. That's why the Williams' Hinged Cap shown here is so remarkable. You can't persuade it to roll down a drain pipe. It refuses to go near the bathroom floor. In brief, it defies all previous laws governing the behavior of shaving cream caps.

Williams' Shaving Cream, in the same way, upsets all traditions about shaving. First of all, it exceeds every known speed limit for softening the beard. You can get your face ready for shaving in less time with Williams' than with any shaving cream you ever used.

In the second place, Williams' has a positive effect for good on the skin. Your face, with the wholesome care which Williams' gives, is kept in better condition and made more comfortable.

Test out these advantages which Williams' offers. Start with Williams' to-morrow and see what a time saver it is and how it helps make shaving more enjoyable.

Notice the hinged cap. You can't lose it—and the tube hangs up!

Business Building

THE selling of commodities is fundamental in every business, and selling life insurance affords the maximum of satisfaction and remuneration. For the life insurance salesman is a business builder and finds innumerable ways to serve the community and make himself indispensable in the conduct of modern affairs.

The life insurance salesman is not only a business builder but he is in business for himself, creating a competence permanent and continuous. It is the best paid work for those who are ambitious and willing to work, and who have the character and stamina necessary to stamp their individuality upon the business and on their community.

The traditions and practices of the JOHN HANCOCK are such that the college graduate can take a peculiar pride in representing this company. You are liable to remain in the business you enter on leaving college. Before making a definite decision inquire into life insurance as a career. Write, "Agency Department."

the high school teacher of English in the light of the objectives of education and principles determined by applied psychology and sociology. Such topics will be considered as general method, planning the curriculum, special methods of teaching oral and written English and literature, and teaching the art of study.

Miss Newton's ripe experience as a teacher in the well known normal schools of Massachusetts and as a supervisor of teachers makes her especially well qualified to deal with the problems of English teachers in the high school. She is a graduate of the State Normal School at Framingham, Mass., and has done special work at Radcliffe College and in the summer schools of Harvard University and Clark University. Her teaching and administrative experience has been wide and very successful. Her first work was in the Perkins Institute for the Blind. She was for several years Principal of the Normal and Training School for Teachers at Haverhill, Mass., and later of the Normal and Training School at New Bedford, Mass. She has been since 1912 Supervisor of Training and Instructor in Methods in The State Normal School, Bridgewater, Mass.

MUNSON-LAST SHOES
At $2.95
Sizes 5½ to 12

Never again will you be able to buy these shoes at such a low price. We were lucky in finding a manufacturer, who was overstocked with them, and needed ready cash, so we bought them at almost one-half of the regular price. This shoe is made over the U. S. Army Munson-last, with extra heavy stitching; special grained chrome brown leather used throughout. An ideal shoe for workmen, farmers, icemen, postmen, carpenters and motormen, who are obliged to be on their feet all day.

Send correct size. Pay Postman $2.95 on delivery, or send us a money order.

If you are not satisfied with these shoes after you examine them, we will promptly refund your money.

Section (c) The Associate Editor, one News Editor, the Associate Business Manager, and the Circulation Manager shall be elected from qualified members of The Board from the Women's College. Candidates shall have not less than forty-two (42) academic credits.

Section (d) Two Assistant Editors and two Assistant Business Managers shall be elected from qualified reporters and business assistants respectively, from the Men's College; and the same number of each, from the Women's College. This clause shall not be construed as preventing reelection. Election shall be on the basis of merit only, and in accordance with a system of credit points which shall be prescribed in the Bylaws.

Article 2. Reporters, Business Assistants and Tryouts

Section (a) The Editorial department shall establish a staff of reporters, which shall be appointed on the basis of merit only, and in accordance with a system of credit points which shall be prescribed in the Bylaws.

Section (b) The Business department shall establish a staff of business assistants, which shall be appointed on the basis of merit only, and in accordance with a system of credit points, which shall be prescribed in the Bylaws.

Section (c) A regularly organized system of tryouts shall be established, which shall permit equal and open competition to all undergraduates, and which shall lead to membership on the staff of reporters or of business assistants. For this purpose, The Board shall establish a uniform system of credit points, which shall apply alike to the Men's and Women's Colleges.

Article 3. Functions and Duties

Section (a) The Editor-in-Chief shall be the general executive officer of The Campus Board, shall administer its policies, and shall direct the publication of The Campus in accordance with the Constitution.

Section (b) The Associate Editor shall share with the Editor-in-Chief the administration and publication of The Campus; in the absence of the Editor-in-Chief, or in case his office is vacant, the Associate Editor shall assume his official duties and responsibilities.

Section (c) The Business Manager shall have charge of the business operations of The Board, and of the execution of its business policies in accordance with the Constitution and in cooperation with the Editorial department.

Section (d) The Associate Business Manager shall share with the Business Manager the business administration of The Campus. In the absence of the Business Manager, or in case his office is vacant, the Associate Business Manager shall assume his official duties and responsibilities.

Section (e) The News Editors and Assistant Editors shall work under the direction of the Editor-in-Chief and Associate Editor, in accordance with the Bylaws.

Section (f) The Advertising Manager, Circulation Manager, and Assistant Business Managers shall work under the direction of the Business Manager and Associate Business Manager, in accordance with the provisions of the Bylaws.

Article 4. Meetings and Elections

Section (a) The Editor-in-Chief shall call a regular meeting of The Board at least once a month. Not more than five (5) college weeks shall elapse between regularly called meetings of The Board. Attendance at all meetings of The Board shall be required.

Section (b) The Campus year shall end in April, the date and manner to be specified in the Bylaws.

Section (c) The annual Campus Board elections shall be held at the end of the Campus year. All offices of The Board shall be open for election at that time.

Section (d) All members of The Campus Board shall be elected by The Board. No vacancy shall be filled except by the election of an eligible candidate.

Section (e) Upon failure of any member of The Board to execute the duties of his or her office in a manner satisfactory to The Board, such member may be dismissed from office by a three-fourths (¾) vote of all the members of The Board.

Section (f) All elections of members of The Board shall be by a majority vote of a quorum. A quorum shall consist of not less than three-fourths (¾) of the members of The Board.

Section (g) The Editor-in-Chief, the Associate Editor, the News Editors, the Business Manager, the Associate Business Manager, the Advertising Manager, and the Circulation Manager shall be elected by secret ballot and without nomination.

Article 5. Amending the Constitution

Section (a) No amendment shall be voted on by The Board at the meeting at which it is proposed.

Section (b) The Board shall inform the representatives of the Alumni and of the Alumnae of any proposed amendment a reasonable length of time before it is voted upon.

Section (c) Any meeting at which an amendment is voted upon shall be duly announced not less than two days in advance, and the intention to vote on said amendment shall be clearly indicated in the announcement of the meeting.

Section (d) No amendment shall be voted upon except by a quorum of The Board, as defined in Part 3, Article 4, Section (b) of this Constitution.

Section (e) The adoption of all amendments by The Board shall conform to the provisions of Part 2, Article 1, of this Constitution.
